Activity - 2 Redefining Misleading Color Chart:

Chart - 1

1. It shows the number of vehicles registered by type: Car, Bus, Bike, Train, and Auto.

2. The bars use different shades of blue, which can make the categories difficult to distinguish and does not add meaningful information.

3. Use one consistent color of all vehicle type or use clearly different, color-blind-friendly colors for each category.

Chart - 2:

1. It shows the number of responses for each course difficulty rating from 1-5 stars.

2. The colors are random and do not represent the increasing difficulty or rating levels clearly.

3. Use a single sequential color scheme that gradually changes from light to dark from 1 to 5 stars.
